

About the Prescot Festival

The Prescot Festival of Music & the Arts was founded in 2005 by local composer, musician and teacher Dr Robert Howard. It now runs to 10 days, with an audience of 1,300 in 2013, featuring an unrivalled mix of professional and amateur talent, both local and national. The Prescot Festival aims to be:

- Accessible—open and welcoming to all
- Affordable—our concerts are among the lowest price you'll find, and many events are free
- All-embracing—encompassing a diversity of art and culture

Our Patron—performing on Sunday 22 June

The Prescot Festival is delighted to have as its patron the esteemed musician Professor Dr Ian Tracey, Organist Titulaire of Liverpool Cathedral, and Chorus Master to the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Choir. Ian is affectionately referred to as an “honorary Prescotian”, having spent his formative years as the parish organist.

Arts in PRESCOT

Arts in Prescot is a not-for-profit, volunteer-run community group organising & promoting arts & cultural events in Prescot & the surrounding area.
